

SPANISH ONLINE GAMING LICENCE FOR AMATIC'S AMANET GAMES

Successfully tried and tested online games immediately available in Spain

AMATIC Industries has been granted the licence to market its AMANET range of online games in Spain. The extensive approval process, managed by the renowned iGaming test-institute NMi, has resulted in authorizations for all areas of online gaming within the Spanish jurisdiction. A total of 27 games are now available for play in the Spanish online gaming market, including well-known titles such as Arising Phoenix, Bells on Fire or Diamond Cats, just to name a few. Each game was tested to fulfil the Spanish i-Gaming laws and passed the whole test procedure without effort.

"We are very much respected in the Spanish land-based market", explains AMATIC's online gaming manager Mrs. Tatjana Bauer-Engstberger. "For many years we have continuously placed our focus on providing the best gaming solutions for players in Spain. That explains our success both with our electronic ROULETTE GRAND JEU series and our MULTI LINER multi-game solutions. Our games make up part of the Spanish gaming culture and naturally the players want to enjoy them online. We are proud to say that this is now possible".

Mr. Leopold Öller, director at AMATIC Industries, who has gained a wealth of experience in the Spanish gaming market, adds: "We are extremely excited about gaining the online gaming certification for our AMANET games. We have been going from strength to strength in Spain for long time. In addition to our constant growth in the land-based sector, the launch of our games in the Spanish online market is the next logical step for further success", Mr. Öller finally points out.

